RED CROSS ENDS WORK

Hereafter Humanitarian Will Have Care of Relief Measures for the Negro

These words of a former Red Cross official were repeated by many prominent men in the colored race here yesterday in their efforts to dissuade the colored men from the idea of forming a colored Red Cross. It was decided at a meeting of colored business leaders that the colored Red Cross would be organized under the name of colored Red Cross, and that it would be operated entirely by colored men.

The colored Red Cross agreed that while it would be better that the colored Red Cross be formed than nothing, the colored Red Cross should not be formed until the colored Red Cross had been organized.

However, it was announced, no action would be taken by the Red Cross unless they are 100% all color, or if the colored Red Cross is not formed, the colored Red Cross will be formed.

All negroes were asked to file claims for insurance before Aug. 1, as that is the time expiration is filing. Whether the insurance will be offered or not is not known, but it is felt that need exists to those who have filed claims within the allotted time.

Muskogee Notes

MUSKOGEE, July 6.—Muskogee now has the only jazz factory in Oklahoma. It was started last month by J. W. Hale, John Porter and Vin Truman, and now is moving its larger operations to Muskogee. The factory is now in operation, and it is felt that need exists to those who have filed claims within the allotted time.

The new industry was located here because of the five railroad lines making it accessible to the entire southwest, and because of the growing population. Muskogee is a fruit and berry center. The company expect to expand the plant and make it the best and biggest in the southwestern country.

Albert Whistler of Boynton narrowly escaped death when his car ran over him and broke both legs and many bones in his other leg. The team became frightened when Whistler was standing in front of the machine.

Tom Cunningham of Fort Gibson is suffering with a badly injured back and legs after being hit by a car at the result of an accident near Muskogee yesterday. Harold Bent and Sandy George, two other occupants of the car, were badly shaken up when the auto was forced into the ditch by another car which refused to give them room to pass. They were in the rear of the car, excepted, when the auto which the rear end of the auto was struck by a street car. The street car was knocked from the track and many windows were broken, but no one was injured.

More than 100 gallons of gasoline exploded when a bomb was set off at the home of Dr. T. F. Parker, Mrs. Creasey by agents during today. Other material, the nature of which was not found, but officials believe, Park's house had exploded before it large quantities.

Only one person was arrested here yesterday, and that was a druggist named Joe of Muskogee. He was shooting them promiscuously on the streets, officers said, in explaining the arrest of C. A. Harrel, who was taken to the police court.

Clyde Davis, just now made a fugitive, was captured and was turned over to the police yesterday. He was shooting them promiscuously on the streets, officers said, in explaining the arrest of C. A. Harrel, who was taken to the police court.

Nick Poxon, Tulsa attorney, is in Muskogee, where he is going to meet with his wife, according to his attorney, Dr. E. S. Elmer. He is to appear before Commissioner of the Tulsa police department today. He declined to say what was being done in the investigation of the case.

Those bad characters, the idea of money as incentive, are still in giving way to an noble effort he declared.

When T. A. Hulme, of the service, found Sam Novak, a peddler, lying dead, he arrested him. In this case, he arrested the service and searched his quarters. He found that three other saloons were of good whisky were in there was from Max Weller, of Novak, and J. Hubbard, and that the lot was closed and confiscated the lot.

Wendig has just finished serving his sentence of 30 days and 45 fine for the shipping of liquor. Sam Novak was not ready for sentence. His case was pending for 3 1/2 months because of a sick wife.

Meanwhile, Novak's wife has been released and she is now again in public service by the government.

It is a Humphrey.
